EL COMALITO COLLECTIVE

OUR MISSION:

El Comalito Collective is an art gallery and community space that showcases underrepresented artists through a variety of media that spark consciousness. We create networks that build support and foster opportunities for marginalized voices through works that explore the intersections of (but not limited to) race, socio-economic status, sexual orientation, and gender, through a decolonial lens. This is a space for and by community.

El Comalito Collective promises to deliver programming for the community which will include workshops, the showcasing of artwork, and proposals made by the community.

FINE ART:

We curate fine art exhibitions centering marginalized artists within our own space as well virtually through an online platform. We also guest curate in other spaces and help with the development of artists through skillsharing, marketing and branding. We have guest lectured and been guest speakers at various colleges and universities, and have invited prominent guest artists to share their experiences with our communities.

BILINGUAL WORKSHOPS:

Painting tutorials, tissue paper flower-making, Day of the Dead workshops, piñata making workshops, papier-mâché, wellness card-making, and more.

All workshops include:
Step-by-step guided instruction, positive reinforcement validation, pro-wellness activities that support social/behavioral/mental/overall wellness. Cultural activities, and breathing exercises.

MATERIALS: We use budget friendly materials that are accessible and available at most arts and craft stores as well as on line. Materials vary depending on workshop, but we make sure to make the materials we use accessible. (Email us for the schedule of free programing or pricing for private engagements)

IMPACT:

We work with non-profits, school districts, colleges and universities. Our workshops are important, educational and therapeutic, and they are open to everyone.

We are able to provide most of our programing at no cost because of donations and support from the community. To donate, please visit ElComalitoCollective.com.

El Comalito Collective is fiscally sponsored by Social Good.
